ABSTRACT

Student enrollment in institutions of higher education in the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) for the fall cf 1972 are reported. Emphasis is placed on total enrollment, control of institution, level of students, first time students, and residence of undergraduates. Tables include statistical data concerning student enrollment and components of the SMSA. (MJM)

INTRODUCTION

The New England Board of Higher Education annually compiles information on college and university enrollments in the region based upon data supplied to the U.S. Office of Education as part of the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). That information is published by NEBHE in the annual report series, Student Enrollment in New England Institutions of Higher Education.

Because of the number of requests for information concerning enrollment in the Boston-area, NEBHE is, with the present report, instituting another annual report series, Student Enrollment in Institutions of Higher Education in the Boston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA).

Included herein are enrollment data for all institutions located in those cities and towns comprising the Boston SMSA as defined by the U. S. Bureau of the Census (see Table 2). These data were taken directly from Student Enrollment in New England Institutions of Higher Education, Fall 1972; that report should be consulted regarding the USOE definitions employed here.

Data on total Massachusetts enrollment and enrollment outside the Boston SMSA are also presented as appropriate for comparative purposes. However, for more detailed information regarding Massachusetts enrollment in Fall 1971 and 1972, the above New England report should be consulted.

The New England Board of Higher Education extends its thanks to the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education and the Massachusetts institutions of higher education for their assistance in providing the data necessary for this report.

ENROLLMENT IN THE BOSTON SMSA

There were a total of 63 degree-granting institutions located in the Boston SMSA in Fall 1972, 29 in Boston and 34 in the surrounding cities and towns comprising the SMSA. Of those located in the city of Boston, 3 were public four-year colleges and universities, 11 were private two-year colleges and 15 were private four-year colleges and universities. Of those outside the central city, 5 were public two-year, 2 public four-year, 6 private two-year and 21 private four-year.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT

The 61 institutions in the Boston SMSA providing Fall 1972 data enrolled a total of 184,106 students, a 3.37% increase over the 178,107 enrolled in Fall 1971. Institutions in the Boston SMSA enrolled 57.4% of all students enrolled in the Commonwealth (320,952) in Fall 1972, and showed a slightly greater rate of growth (3.37%) than those outside the Boston SMSA (2.84%).

Public institutions in the Boston SMSA accounted for 29.9% (40,209) of the total enrollment (134,388) in the Massachusetts public sector in Fall 1972. Their enrollment increased by 14.27% between 1971 and 1972 compared to 4.20% for those outside the area and 7.02% for all public institutions in the state.

Institutions in the Boston SMSA under private control accounted for 77.1% (143,897) of the total enrollment (186,564) in the Massachusetts private sector in Fall 1972. They showed a 0.69% increase over 1971 compared to a slight decrease of 0.04% for those outside the area and to an increase of 0.52% statewide for private institutions.

CONTROL OF INSTITUTION

Massachusetts is the only state in the nation where enrollment in the private sector still exceeds that in the public sector, although the margin continues to decrease. (The private sector enrolled 58.1% of all students in 1972 compared to 59.6% in 1971.) This is because of the heavy concentration of private institutions in the Boston SMSA where more than three out of every four (78.2%) students are enrolled in a private institution. (In Boston city, the percent is 83.6%.) In fact, outside the Boston SMSA, 68.8% of the students are enrolled in public institutions.

Again, however, there are marked differences if the control of the institution is considered. with for example, 29.7% of the undergraduates attending public institutions enrolled within the Boston SMSA compared to 75.0% for the private sector's undergraduate enrollment. At the graduate level, the figures are 6.3% and 87.6% respectively.

FIRST-TIME STUDENTS

A total of 30,029 first-time degree-credit students were reported by institutions located within the Boston SMSA; this was slightly over one half (52.7%) of the first-time degree-credit enrollment reported in the state.

Private institutions accounted for 23,507 of the Boston SMSA's first-time degree-credit enrollment with the remaining 6,522 matriculating at public institutions. These 23,507 students represented 72.2% of the total first-time degree-credit enrollment in the Commonwealth's private institutions. For the public sector, the 6,522 represented 26.7% of the total in the state.
